

A sampling of past internship projects and tasks have included:

- ❖ Researching and writing a summary paper on the conflict in Colombia and bilateral relations between Ecuador as background material for the Study Abroad Programme [in English]. This was subsequently published in the CEMPROC Working Paper Series. (<http://www.cemproc.org/KPopCWPS.pdf>)
- ❖ Designing and co-teaching an English-language course for teachers at the American school in Quito on conflict transformation and social justice in the classroom.
- ❖ Conducting workshops, involving teaching, games, songs and simulations, on conflict resolution for children in two schools in Quito (Escuela Ciudad de Cuenca and Escuela Francisco Javier Salazar). The workshops lasted four hours each and, over a course of three weeks, reached out to over 600 children between the age of 9 and 12.
- ❖ Assisting in workshops on conflict resolution for adults, held for the parent community at Escuela Francisco Javier Salazar.
- ❖ Identifying publicity, marketing, and media opportunities to increase the visibility of CEMPROC programs; pitched and secured radio and newspaper coverage of CEMPROC open-enrollment conflict resolution courses and public expert panel forums
- ❖ Designing and researching through focus groups a training on conflict resolution for migrant families; developed a manual to accompany the course
- ❖ Wrote an article on migrant conflict resolution and social justice for a major international professional magazine (http://www.acrnet.org/publications/ACResolution/Summer08Addendum/Two_Faces_of_Migration_ACR7.4.pdf)
- ❖ Designing a module on migration to complement the course on conflict resolution for children, considering the high migration pressure in Ecuadorian society and the social and emotional strain that emigration and separation put on children and family relationships [in Spanish].
- ❖ Designing a module on migration to complement the adults' courses on conflict resolution; this included writing two simulations that could allow participants to practice conflict resolution skills in migration-related conflict.
- ❖ Networking with potential partner and client organizations, developing relationships and answering preliminary questions in order to set up a meeting with the organization leadership.
- ❖ Assisting in a range of organisational and logistical duties surrounding the International Conflict Resolution Study Abroad Program run by CEMPROC and the University of Georgia (USA) for a group of undergraduate students in Quito.
- ❖ Researching, travelling to conduct a needs assessment, and writing a grant proposal for a non-violent social change and community organizing workshop in an indigenous community
- ❖ Writing a project proposal for a possible collaboration between CEMPROC and the International Organization for Migration (IOM) Ecuador on local governance and community building in Ecuador's northern provinces.
- ❖ Writing articles for the CEMPROC newsletter [in English and Spanish].
- ❖ Creating a database of schools in the Quito area and drafting letters to the schools offering CEMPROC conflict resolution courses for children.
- ❖ Numerous logistical duties and office tasks.
